March 27, 2022 ~ Fourth Sunday of Lent

“How blessed are they who are called to the banquet of the Lord!”

Today’s gospel is well known for the value it places on welcoming those who have turned away. However, it is worth looking at where Jesus stands when he shares this parable – amid tax collectors and sinners. Jesus isn’t preaching to his followers; he’s preaching to a group of people whom his followers want nothing to do with. By physically aligning himself with sinners, Jesus delivers his message in a way that the Pharisees find threatening. They are used to avoiding sinners and keeping themselves “clean” by staying away from those who threaten their holiness. Jesus does not espouse this mindset. Instead, he goes among a crowd of sinners and shares a story of a sinner being accepted. We have heard this story many times. So often we can be quick to recognize our own sinfulness and shortcomings and take the position of the younger brother. Likewise, there are probably times when we have acted more like the older brother, quick to condemn someone and point out their flaws and shortcomings. However, the real point of this story is that it reveals something spectacular about the nature of God. The father in the story would be well within his authority to ignore the return of his younger son. The son asks for his share of inheritance, basically telling his father, “I wish you were dead.” It would be perfectly understandable for the father to resist the son’s vain and self-concerned apology. Even so, the father patiently keeps watch for the return of his son, ready to welcome him back. In sharing this parable, Jesus tells us about the incredible nature of our God who loves us beyond any of our faults and shortcomings. Even when we are a long way off from who we are called to be, God waits for us to return. This season of Lent implores us to be reconciled to God. We are called to return to God, recognizing that we are sinful and will fail again. We fall short no matter how hard we might try. We can rest, however, knowing that God waits for us to return, ready to greet us from a long way off. As Pope Francis writes, “God never tires of forgiving us, we are the ones who tire of seeking God’s mercy.” In these last weeks of Lent, let us pray that we may have the strength and courage to always return to God and accept his loving embrace.

Make it a great week! ~ Fr. Balash

WEEKLY BIBLE REFLECTIONS

Third Sunday of Lent

“No longer was there manna for the Israelites, who that year ate of the yield of the land of Canaan.”
(JOSHUA 5:12)

Over the forty years that the Israelites journeyed through the desert, God provided them with manna to eat. As soon as they were able to enjoy the fruits of the Promised Land the manna ceased. Likewise, God's blessings to us may change over the years but it is important to trust that God will always provide us with all that we need.
